

antarnād Foundation

Psychoanalytic counseling & psychotherapy for individuals, couples and families

PRESENTS

An all-Weekend Psychoanalytic Seminar on

Narcissism and Some of its Vicissitudes

On February 4th & 5th (Saturday & Sunday), 2017

by Apurva Shah, M.D.

Saturday- February 4th

10:00 am to 1:00 pm – Sigmund Freud's paper - "On Narcissism: An Introduction"

3:00 to 6:00 pm – The psychological development of the Self: Introduction to Margaret Mahler's theory of separation-individuation.

Sunday - February 5th

9:30 am to 12:30 pm – The Kohutian Self vs the Lacanian Subject: An introduction to the radical inter-subjectivity of Jacques Lacan.

1:00 to 5:00 pm – Working Lunch & Movie analysis. We will watch the movie together and then discuss the psychoanalytic themes.

Pre-Workshop Reading: "On Narcissism" (1914) by Sigmund Freud.

Venue: 402 Shikhar, Mithakali Six Roads, Ahmedabad.

Fees: In the interest of making this workshop accessible widely to students and clinicians, Antarnad would like to keep the fees just to cover the incidentals:

1. For Students: Rs. 500 for the 2 days.
2. For Professionals / practicing clinicians: Rs. 1500 for the 2 days.

We will have a simple vegetarian lunch and tea/refreshment served on both days for all the participants.

Registration: Please fill up the registration form (attached) and send it to us (scan/email, by post or in-person). Participation will be confirmed on first-come-first basis and only after the receipt of the fees, since space is limited.

Apurva Shah MD is a Child and Adolescent Psychiatrist, currently working at Kaiser Permanente in Lancaster, California. After finishing his medical school in Ahmedabad, he moved to New York City where he did his residency and fellowship training at the Albert Einstein College of Medicine. He became a candidate at the New York Psychoanalytic Institute, but left it to move back to India. In 1996, he started Antarnad Foundation, for teaching psychoanalysis and training psychoanalytic psychotherapists. Back in the US since 2000, he is a professional affiliate member and the co-coordinator of the Film and Mind Series at the New York Psychoanalysis. In his presentations and publications he focuses on the intersection of psychoanalysis and culture, often through the analysis of movies.

402 Shikhar Apartments, Navrangpura, Ahmedabad – 380009. Gujarat (India)

Phone: (+91) 79-40092556 Email: admin@antarnadfoundation.org

www.antarnadfoundation.org

आत्मानम् विद्धि:

antarnād Foundation

Psychoanalytic counseling & psychotherapy for individuals, couples and families
