PRESENT

An Introduction to Psychoanalytic Thought and It's Relevance to Social Structure and Customs

By Dr. Pushpa Mishra

On Tuesday October 18th, 2016 at 11:00 am to 1:30 pm

Venue: LH6, D Block, School of Liberal Studies, PDPU

In this presentation, Dr. Mishra will take up a few fundamental propositions of Psychoanalysis and help us understand how they influence and find expression in society and culture.

Dr. Mishra is one of the senior most practicing Psychoanalysts in Kolkata. She also teaches and supervises trainee psychoanalysts at the Indian Psychoanalytical Association (IPA), Kolkata – the premier psychoanalytic training institution in India. She has an MA in Psychology from Calcutta University and a Ph.D. in Philosophy from the University of Rochester (USA).

Dr. Misra was a Fulbright Fellow for the year 1993–1994 for postdoctoral research at the University of Pittsburgh. Her academic interests range from psychoanalysis to philosophy of science, applied ethics, and literature. She is also the author of a recently published book “The Scientific Status of Psychoanalysis: Evidence and Confirmation” (Pub: Karnac Books).
